Cold Canyon Materials Recovery Facility

A photograph of a Materials Recovery Facility (MRF) in the Bay Area. The image shows a complex system of blue conveyor belts and machinery processing waste. The belts are filled with various types of waste, including paper, plastic, and other materials. The facility is industrial, with metal structures and overhead pipes. The lighting is bright, highlighting the machinery and the flow of waste. A white text box in the upper right corner contains the title "Materials Recovery Facility in Bay Area".
